February 2020

Greetings from your Secretary,

There will be no Cockpit Corner this month due to Brian's work schedule (I am an engineer and engineers don't do creative writing too pretty good. 😊 ) Brian did pass along a couple of things worth mentioning though:

- He received a call from the park manager and they discussed the drone safety notice that the park received (see attached)
- They also discussed the possibility of storing a mower on park property. There is one possibility that they came up with.

Brian will fill us in on the details of all of this at the next meeting, so that is all for now.

Until next time, keep the cockpit up and be safe.
